

JLMS can be configured to accept users from multiple companies. Each company will only have access to its own data and courseware that it has purchased licenses for. Various options are available for users to login to their company, and each company will have their own unique look and feel and functional requirements.

- Standard install can be setup in two different ways
 - Single company/institution mode;
 - Multi-company mode; (a special license is required to operate in this mode)
- Multi-company activation allow different users from different companies to use the same system
 - Each company has full access to change the look and feel for each individual company
 - Each company has full access to the complete JLMS system, but can only view information about users and usage from that company
 - All reports and system are effectively isolated from each other.
- Different Admin Types
 - A Company Admin user is available for each company.
 - A System Admin will have access to manage companies
- A company can be set up in two course access modes:
 - All courses Mode
 - All courses are available to students
 - Course Subscription Mode
 - A company is issued with a limited number of course-licenses, and can only use as many licenses as have been purchased.
- Course Subscription Mode allows a System admin to manage how many course accesses can be made by a company. There are two different ways this can be done
 - Course Subscription Generic License
 - A company purchases say 1000 generic course license. These can be used to access any course on the system.
 - Course Subscription Specific License
 - A company purchases license for specific course. For example they could purchase 100 off Excel Fundamentals licenses, and 100 off Excel Proficiency licenses.
 - Student access to a course will automatically deduct a license from the remaining total, allowing automatic license control.
 - If the total licenses have run out, student will be given message to contact administrator, as there are no more valid license.
 - System admin have the capability to assign more licenses as purchased or agreed with each company.
 - Company admin will instantly see how many license they have left on logging into the system.
- Company access can be control via different means
 - Common login screen can operate in two ways for existing students
 - User selects their Company from the dropdown, and then logs in with UserID and password. They are then taken to their company branded JLMS.
 - User will only type in the UserID and password. System assesses which company they are from, and redirects them to correct company. (in this scenario all UserID must be unique over all companies)
 - New Users registration can be done in two ways
 - User is sent a company specific enrolment code. They use this when registering allowing the system to correctly register them in the company
 - User is sent a company specific LINK containing a keyword, which will take them to a company specific registration page.
